Copy Press invites you to join Anne Tallentire, Chris Fite-Wassilak and Lucia Pietroiusti when they come together at Large Glass to read Object of a Life.

Wednesday, 23rd April, 6.30 – 7.30pm
Wine afterwards, 7.30 – 8.30pm
Large Glass, 392 Caledonian Road, London N1 1DN

Anne Tallentire's book, Object of a Life, makes an inventory of things that come to hand in the course of daily life, playing with ideas of contradiction, categorisation, improbability and speculation. This reading will take the form of an improvised iteration that will work with the first four sections: Gather, Spread, Stack, Tilt.

Large Glass was founded by Charlotte Schepke as a commercial space for new encounters. It makes itself home to a variety of objects, practices and artists and intertwines visual arts with talks, music, films, events and tastings.

Copy Press is currently publishing 100-page paperbacks under the series name Common Intellectual, each title provides a proposition for living, thinking and enjoyment. www.copypress.co.uk.

Days of Surrender Jaki Irvine

In 1916, when Padraic Pearse, Irish republican and leader of the 'Easter Rising', decided to surrender, he asked midwife Elizabeth O'Farrell to make the perilous walk to deliver his message to the British army. Setting off down a Dublin street where some of the dead still held white flags in their hands, Elizabeth O'Farrell was watched from the door by Julia Grenan, referred to in documents as her 'friend and lifelong companion'. This is the story of those days.

Jaki Irvine is an artist who lives and works in Dublin and Mexico City. She is concerned with how we come to imagine and understand ourselves from within our privacy and often uses video installation as a way to reflect on moments where this process, awkwardly and unavoidably, comes spilling into the public spaces of our lives.
